

Interprofessional Education Full Cadaver Dissection Course

This IPE workshop is open to first year students in Medicine, Midwifery, Nursing, Occupational Therapy, Physician Assistant, Physiotherapy, and Speech-Language Pathology.

To express your interest, you must register for a LOTTERY which will be drawn to fill available spots. To sign up for the lottery, please register at <https://www.ipemanager.ca/>.

Twenty-eight names will be randomly drawn and invited to participate in the workshop. The course runs Wednesday evenings, from January 22nd to March 19th (EXCLUDING READING WEEK).

Participants must FULLY COMMIT to attending ALL 8 Wednesday sessions (5:30pm-8:30pm)

Start date 2025-01-22

THIS EVENT IS ENDORSED BY:

Program for Interprofessional
Practice, Education and Research

MASTERY CREDIT

Key Dates:

1. Deadline to register on IPE Manager: Nov. 29, 2024
2. Lottery Draw: Dec. 2, 2024
3. Invitations to participate emailed: Dec. 2, 2024
4. Deadline to confirm your spot: Dec. 6, 2024 (12pm)
5. Lab start date: Jan. 22, 2025

The course fee is $65. All supplies will be provided, and the anatomy lab will provide greens/gowns (no lab coat required). Financial assistance may be available to those who qualify.

Attendance is mandatory as enrollment in the course is limited. Failure to attend all sessions will result in the loss of IPE mastery credit.

In addition to dissection, small group case studies with specific learning objectives must be prepared for each session. Please be aware that there is work involved outside of attending each session and going through the dissections. This is a great opportunity to work in an Interprofessional team, build relationships, and learn material that is pertinent to all health professions. We expect the highest level of professionalism from students representing various programs throughout the entire course.
